Code of Conduct

It is the student's responsibility to have read the College of Social Work Ethical Academic and Professional Conduct Code that is in the College of Social Work MSSW Handbook (www.csw.utk.edu). Students are also expected to sign and adhere to the Social Work Field Placement Code of Conduct.

The Honor Statement

An essential feature of The University of Tennessee is a commitment to maintaining an atmosphere of intellectual integrity and academic honesty. As a student of the University, I pledge that I will neither knowingly give nor receive any inappropriate assistance in academic work, thus affirming my own personal commitment to honor and integrity. (Hilltopics).

University Civility Statement

Civility is genuine respect and regard for others: politeness, consideration, tact, good manners, graciousness, cordiality, affability, amiability and courteousness. Civility enhances academic freedom and integrity, and is a prerequisite to the free exchange of ideas and knowledge in the learning community. Our community consists of students, faculty, staff, alumni, and campus visitors. Community members affect each other's well-being and have a shared interest in creating and sustaining an environment where all community members and their points of view are valued and respected. Affirming the value of each member of the university community, the campus asks that all its members adhere to the principles of civility and community adopted by the campus: <http://civility.utk.edu/>

Disability

If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a documented disability or if you have emergency information to share, please contact The University of Tennessee Office of Disability Services at 100 Dunford Hall (865) 974-6087. This will ensure that you are properly registered for services.

Dimensions of Diversity

The College of Social Work and the University of Tennessee welcome and honor all people. In accordance with the U.S. National Association of Social Workers (NASW) and the U.S. Council on Social Work Education (CSWE 2015 Educational Policy Statement), "the dimensions of diversity are understood as the intersectionality of multiple factors including" age, class, color, culture, mental or physical disability and ability, ethnicity, gender, gender expression, gender identity, immigration status, marital status, national origin, political ideology, race, regionality, religion and spirituality, sex, sexual orientation, and tribal sovereign status. The College values intellectual curiosity, pursuit of knowledge, and academic freedom and integrity. "A person's diverse life experiences may include oppression, poverty, marginalization, and alienation as well as privilege, power, and acclaim" (CSWE 2015 Educational Policy Statement). The College of Social Work promotes social justice and social change, and strives to end discrimination, oppression, poverty, and other forms of social injustice.

Course Description

SW 541 is the first of a sequence of three required generalist field practicum courses in the MSSW curriculum. This seminar is intended to prepare students for their first field agency experience beginning in the fall semester. Students will continue with the seminar in the fall and spring semesters concurrently with the agency practicum.

The focus in field is on the application of social work knowledge, values, ethics, and skills to the practice setting. The focus of this first field seminar is on ethical and professional communication and use of technology in the field setting. Topics covered will include documentation, ethical use of social media, risk management related to professional communication, and trends related to service provision through technology. This course will be taught in an online format through Canvas. Students are required to review all materials and lectures posted on Canvas and complete two required assignments.

Course Rationale

Generalist Field is critical to the students' capacity to integrate the broad knowledge base required for effective generalist social work practice regardless of setting. The field practicum experience enables students to identify and respond to issues of social justice and diversity and use an ethical, ecological approach to solving real client problems. The generalist field courses lay the essential groundwork of generalist practice competencies preparing students to progress to concentration field experiences.

Course Competencies

This seminar will focus on Generalist Field Competency 1:

Demonstrate Ethical and Professional Behavior

- Make ethical decisions by applying the standards of the NASW Code of Ethics, relevant laws and regulations, models for ethical decision-making, ethical conduct of research, and additional codes of ethics as appropriate to the context.
- Use reflection and self-regulation to manage personal values and maintain professionalism in practice situations.
- Demonstrate professional demeanor in behavior, appearance, and oral, written, and electronic communication.
- Use technology ethically and appropriately to facilitate practice outcomes.

Course Assignments

LIVE online lecture Thursday June 13, 2019 at 7:00 pm EST.

- A zoom link to the lecture will be provided. Please be prepared to discuss the ethics training listed below during the online lecture.
- Prior to the online lecture, watch the following training: NASW (2017, October 25). "Official National Training on the Revisions to the NASW Code of Ethics." Retrieved from <https://www.socialworkers.org/About/Ethics/Ethics-Education-and-Resources/Code-of-Ethics-Training> 2 hours 29 minutes

Discussion Board 1 (Due June 27, 2019)

1. Read the following articles:
 - Fels, A. (2015, April 4). "Do you Google Your Shrink?" The New York Times. Retrieved from: <https://opinionator.blogs.nytimes.com/2015/04/04/do-you-google-your-shrink/>
 - Judd, R & Johnson, L. (2012). Ethical Consequences of Using Social Networking Sites for Students in Professional Social Work Programs. Journal of Social Work Values and Ethics, 9(1). Retrieved from: <http://jswvearchives.com/spring12/spr122.pdf>
2. Then, google your own name, phone number, address, etc. and review findings-- including images that are available of you on the World Wide Web. Think about your current online presence and how it might impact your career as a professional social worker.
3. Next, post to the discussion board about what you learned from the articles and uncovered via Google. Use the questions below to guide your answers for the discussion.
 - Were you surprised or concerned by the articles or by any results/images from your Google search?
 - Considering the very real possibility that your clients (and others) may Google you, what are the implications for your professional practice and reputation?

Respond to at least two of your classmates' postings in addition to your answers to the questions to complete this assignment and earn full points.

Discussion Board 2: Social Media Policy (Due July 25, 2019)

1. Listen to Podcast Episode 110 from the InSocialWork Podcast Series titled: "Social Media Use and Social Work Practice: Boundary and Ethical Considerations." 35 minutes <http://insocialwork.org/episode.asp?ep=110>
2. Read the UT CSW field manual section 8.04: Use of Technology and Social Media in Field. Access online: <http://www.csw.utk.edu/field/docs/mssw/MSSW%20Field%20Manual.pdf>
3. Read the following articles:

- Reamer, F. G. (2013). Social Work in a Digital Age: Ethical and Risk Management Challenges, Social Work, 58 (1), 163–172. Retrieved from: <https://doi.org/10.1093/sw/swt003>

 - Social Workers' Guide to Social Media: <http://socialwork.buffalo.edu/resources/social-media-guide.html>
4. After completing the readings and assignments related to social media and considering your new roles as a field student and professional social worker, develop your own personal social media policy. Your policy should be 3-7 sentences long. Post your social media policy on the Discussion Board and comment meaningfully on at least two classmates' policies on the Discussion Board.
