Course Description

The purpose of this course is to develop the knowledge and skills necessary for successful and competent social work practice in public schools, with an emphasis on assessment skills and skills in collaboration, crisis intervention, and prevention. Current social problems influencing the practice of social work in schools (e.g. homelessness, HIV/AIDS, violence, substance abuse, racism) are examined. Both traditional school social work practices as well as emerging practice paradigms such as full service schools are discussed.

Course Objectives

Upon successful completion of this course, students should be able:

1. To understand the social, emotional, cultural and economic issues affecting diverse groups of students (e.g., students of color, gay and lesbian students) and schools and be able to assist diverse groups of students and families in overcoming barriers to learning.
2. To understand the needs of students at risk due to disability, economic condition, family disruption or other environmental factors and be able to work with teachers, school counselors, school psychologists and family resource center staff in addressing student needs.
3. To serve as liaison between home and school, assist parents in understanding their children's needs, interpret student assessments to parents, and work with parents in developing parenting skills.
4. To perform case management functions, facilitating the coordination and integration of community services to benefit students and their families.
5. To support students with special needs by preparing social histories, contributing to the development and implementation of individualized education programs (IEPs) and helping ensure the participation of parents.
6. To understand federal, state and local laws and policies affecting students including issues such as services for disadvantaged students, services required by students with disabilities, due process rights of students and families, child abuse and neglect, HIV and AIDS, confidentiality, attendance, suspension and expulsion.
7. To describe and analyze the roles and functions of school social workers (e.g. advocate, teacher, broker, etc...) in their practice with diverse groups of students, families, school personnel, and diverse communities.
8. To understand how the social organization and political environment of the school influences the practice of school social work.
9. To develop skills in: a) differential assessment of the problem; b) developing interventions based on empirically supported research (i.e. "what works") with diverse populations; and, c) evaluating the outcomes of these interventions.
10. To address a number of ethical dilemmas facing the social work practitioner in the school setting including an exploration of one's personal values and potential conflicts between one's personal and professional values.

- II. Quiz on Special Education and Educational Law Issues----- 20 points
- III. Social History/Psychoeducational Assessment-----20 points
- IV. Sample Activity for a Hypothetical Group Session-----20 points
- V. Project/Presentation-----30 points

Total Maximum = 100 points

Assignment of Final Grades - The final course grade will be based on the following point totals:

- 92 – 100 points = A (Superior Performance)
- 87 – 91 points = B+ (Better than Satisfactory Performance)
- 82 – 86 points = B (Satisfactory Performance)
- 77 – 81 points = C+ (Less than Satisfactory Performance)
- 70 – 76 points = C (Performance well below standard expected of grad. students)

I. Classroom Participation in Weekly Ethical Dilemma Discussions (10 points):

The final 30 minutes of 10 class periods will consist of group discussions of ethical dilemmas that school social workers may encounter. At the beginning of the semester the class will be randomly divided into small discussion groups. Each group will decide upon a way to rotate selection of “group leaders.” Each week the groups will be given a vignette to discuss for about 15 minutes. That week’s group leaders are responsible for initiating and facilitating the discussion and giving a brief verbal summary of the group’s position to the rest of the class during the final 15 minutes. “Grades” of 0 or 1 point will be given each week based upon the extent that the student is present and makes meaningful contributions.

II. Quiz (20 points):

This will be a brief multiple choice and/or short answer quiz assessing knowledge of Special Education Issues and Educational Law

III. Social History/Psychoeducational Assessment (20 points):

This will be a written assignment based upon: a) observing a classroom demonstration of a social history interview with a parent and the administration of a psychoeducational assessment instrument; or, b) using information obtained from an actual assessment you have done in you field placement. (Additional information will be provided in class.)

IV. Sample Activity for a Hypothetical Group Session (20 points):

Each student will “create” a hypothetical school-based group, summarizing pertinent information (number of students, ages, gender, type of problem or issue, etc.) in a typed description (1/2 to 1 page in length). On the back of the same page, the student will describe/detail a sample activity for the group, explaining exactly how to conduct the activity and the goal/reason for doing such an activity. Additionally, on the designated due date, each student will bring to class 20 copies of the assignment to provide to the other students and will be prepared to give a brief (approximately five minute) verbal synopsis. (Additional information will be provided in class.)

V. Project (30 points):

The project will be done individually, (though requests for 2-person-team projects will be considered) and will include researching a currently relevant issue/problem in the field of school social work and making a classroom presentation (approximately 30-40 minutes), which includes basic information/definition of the issue, pros and cons of potential/existing interventions, and a proposal for addressing the problem. The presentation should also address any potential ethical dilemmas unique to the chosen topic. Students will do a brief, but comprehensive literature review and fully explore the chosen area. Students will turn in a typed outline and bibliography two weeks prior to the assigned presentation date, and will bring copies of the outline and bibliography to distribute to classmates on the day of the presentation.

The project grade will be separated into two components:

Outline/Bibliography	-	25%
Classroom Presentation	-	75%
