Code of Conduct
It is the student's responsibility to have read the College of Social Work Ethical Academic and Professional Conduct Code that is in the College of Social Work MSSW Handbook (www.csw.utk.edu). Students are also expected to sign and adhere to the Social Work Field Placement Code of Conduct.

The Honor Statement
An essential feature of The University of Tennessee is a commitment to maintaining an atmosphere of intellectual integrity and academic honesty. As a student of the University, I pledge that I will neither knowingly give nor receive any inappropriate assistance in academic work, thus affirming my own personal commitment to honor and integrity. (Hilltopics).

University Civility Statement
Civility is genuine respect and regard for others: politeness, consideration, tact, good manners, graciousness, cordiality, affability, amiability and courteousness. Civility enhances academic freedom and integrity, and is a prerequisite to the free exchange of ideas and knowledge in the learning community. Our community consists of students, faculty, staff, alumni, and campus visitors. Community members affect each other’s well-being and have a shared interest in creating and sustaining an environment where all community members and their points of view are valued and respected. Affirming the value of each member of the university community, the campus asks that all its members adhere to the principles of civility and community adopted by the campus: http://civility.utk.edu/

Disability
If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a documented disability or if you have emergency information to share, please contact The University of Tennessee Office of Disability Services at 100 Dunford Hall (865) 974-6087. This will ensure that you are properly registered for services.
Dimensions of Diversity

The College of Social Work and the University of Tennessee welcome and honor all people. In accordance with the U.S. National Association of Social Workers (NASW) and the U.S. Council on Social Work Education (CSWE 2015 Educational Policy Statement), “the dimensions of diversity are understood as the intersectionality of multiple factors including” age, class, color, culture, mental or physical disability and ability, ethnicity, gender, gender expression, gender identity, immigration status, marital status, national origin, political ideology, race, regionality, religion and spirituality, sex, sexual orientation and tribal sovereign status. The College values intellectual curiosity, pursuit of knowledge, and academic freedom and integrity. “A person’s diverse life experiences may include oppression, poverty, marginalization, and alienation as well as privilege, power, and acclaim” (CSWE 2015 Educational Policy Statement). The College of Social Work promotes social justice and social change, and strives to end discrimination, oppression, poverty, and other forms of social injustice.

Course Description

This course is a concentration elective course. This course examines the social and cultural aspects of aging with special emphasis on diversity and social policies. This course critically examines the effect of social issues and policies on multicultural client systems, organizations, agencies and communities.

Course Rationale

Due to improvements in health awareness and medical technology, as well as demographic changes, the number of older people in the U.S. and most other countries is increasing rapidly. This trend has profoundly changed society in the past quarter-century and will continue to do so well into the next century. As a result, interest in the aging process has grown considerably within the last 25 years. The rapid increase of older persons will require an enormous increase in the number of professionals trained and competent to work with older adults and their families. This course will examine social and cultural aspects of aging, with special emphasis on issues of diversity along with social policies and practices that may perpetuate oppression, discrimination and social injustice.

Course Competencies: By the completion of this course, students are expected to be able to demonstrate competency to:

1) Identify and evaluate social theories and culturally related perspectives on aging and caregiving. Diversity 3, Diversity 4, Critical Thinking 1 & 3, Practice 3 (Content: Social Theories of Aging. For example: Role Theory, Activity Theory, Disengagement Theory, Continuity Theory, Symbolic Interactionism, Age Stratification Theory, Social Exchange Theory, Life Course Perspective)

3) Recognize multi-cultural issues among older adults and assess barriers to culturally relevant service delivery for client systems Diversity 1-3, Practice 1, Values & Ethics 2 (Content: Elders of Color, Gender Discrepancies, GLBT Elders, Elder Immigrants, Intergenerational Issues)

4) Analyze ethical and resolve ethical dilemmas encountered in social work practice with older adults and their families that may arise in practice. Values & Ethics 1-3, Practice 1 (Content: GLBT Elders, Elder Immigrants, Health & Social Service Utilization, Gender Differences in Aging, Caregiving, Abuse, Neglect, Self-Neglect, Assisted Suicide, Advanced Directives)

Course Format

This course will be offered using an online education format and supported through the use of Canvas and Zoom. The class will meet collectively for mandatory LIVE sessions five times during the semester: July 13 at 7-8pm (CST); July 20 at 7-8pm (CST); July 27 at 7-8pm, August 3 at 7-8pm (CST) and August 10 at 7-8PM (CST). Students can expect to spend at least six to eight hours per week on class related tasks that may include, but are not limited to: reading assigned materials; participating in discussion boards; viewing online resources such as videos or websites; and other assignments. Students are responsible for actively participating in all assigned tasks on an ongoing basis.

LIVE session participation

Participation in LIVE online sessions is mandatory. Students are required to communicate to the professor as early as possible if a session is to be missed. Please mark your calendars and make every effort to attend sessions.

An extra field assessment may be assigned for a missed class.

Assigned Readings

Assessment of Long Term Care Facilities

The purpose of this assignment is to allow students to assess the physical and social environment of nursing homes and assisted living facilities. In doing so, students will demonstrate mastery of their ability to identify, recognize and discuss social challenges faced by elder living in these environments and the implications for social work practice (Course Competency 2). Students will conduct an assessment of one nursing home and one assisted living facility using instruments provided by the instructor. These instruments can be found at the end of the course syllabus. In addition to completing the assessment instruments, students will write a one page summary of their reactions. The summary will include an assessment of each facility’s strengths and weaknesses along with the student’s recommendations on how social workers could enhance the quality of life for residents of these facilities.

Facility Assessment papers are due at 4:00 PM (CST) July 20 and NO PAPERS WILL BE ACCEPTED AFTER THAT TIME. All assessments must be submitted via Canvas. No assessments will be accepted by email.

Interview – Older Adult

The purpose of this assignment is to allow students to demonstrate mastery of course competencies 1-4 based on an interview with an older adult and application of knowledge acquired through course materials. Students are to interview an older adult (70 years plus) who is a different gender and race/ethnicity from themselves. Based on this interview students will write a paper summarizing the following points.

1. Productive Aging: How would you explain the social connectedness of the older adult interviewed? What are his/her dreams and challenges and how do they compare to the AARP Report?
2. Poverty & Aging: How did the older adult’s income change after retirement? What is his/her knowledge of health and social programs? To what extent does this individual use health and social programs? How does the older adult’s situation compare with state and national statistics covered /
3. Marriage & Family: What is the older adult’s current relationship with his/her family? In what way have these relationships changed over the his/her life?
4. End of Life: What is the older adult’s current end of life wishes? Has he/she taken steps to create advanced directives? Why does he/she think this is/is not important? How does the older adult’s end of life wishes compare to the cultural perspectives on death?
6. Implications for Practice: What are the social challenges facing this individual and the implication of those challenges for social work practice?
7. Ethical Issues: What possible ethical issues could be encountered in practice with this individual and his/her family and how would you resolve them?

Grades will be assigned based on the thoroughness and accuracy of student responses. Application of course materials and mastery of course competencies must be clearly evident and will factor into the student’s score. The older interview is due on July 27 at 4:00 PM (CST). NO LATE PAPERS WILL BE ACCEPTED. All interviews must be submitted via Canvas. No interviews will be accepted via email. Use the headings provided (points 1-7)
