

Coalition of Black Social Workers

Engage. Connect. Empower.

CBSW Inaugural Conference

"Still I Rise: Moving Forward in the Face of Adversity"

Friday, February 7, 2020

8:00-1:30PM

University of Tennessee College of Social Work

193 Polk Ave | Nashville, TN 37210

OPEN TO ALL STUDENTS, PROFESSIONALS, and DISCIPLINES

CBSW Student Member:	$5	After 12/31: $10
CBSW Professional Member:	$10	After 12/31: $15
Other Students:	$10	After 12/31: $15
Other Professionals:	$15	After 12/31: $20

Register using EventBrite Link: Register HERE!

Questions? Contact Carmen Foster: cfoste22@utk.edu

Free Parking! Lunch is included.

Social workers will receive 4 Contact Hours.

Sponsored by the UT College of Social Work

Keynote Speaker

Dr. J. Camille Hall

Dr. Camille Hall, is a Professor in the College of Social Work, Knoxville. She joined the faculty in 2004. Dr. Hall received her BSW & BSW at New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, NM and her Ph.D. from Smith College, Northampton, MA.

She is a clinical social work officer in the US Army Reserve, assigned to Irwin Army Community Hospital in Fort Riley, Kansas. She was the former chairperson of the UTK Commission for Blacks, appointed to the University of Tennessee's Diversity Advisory Council (5-years), and is a member of STRIDE (Strategies and Tactics for Recruiting to Improve Diversity and Excellence) . Dr. Hall has extensive volunteerism and was a board member for Girls on the Run-Knoxville and CASA of the Tennessee Heartland. Her research focuses on African American's risk and resilience and multicultural competence. She developed and leads an international service learning/community engagement program in San Jose, Costa Rica. Dr. Hall's evidence-based course instruction model for multicultural competence is taught at 25-colleges/universities.